

YARA EL BADAOUI

Hello! I'm Yara El-Badaoui, and I am passionate about exploring all forms of creative expression. I am always looking to learn and love to experiment with different media and techniques, embracing challenges as opportunities to evolve my artistic abilities. My interests include fashion, beauty, brand image and marketing, editorial makeup and runway, jewelry design, fun nail art, and all things "girly." I am also deeply engaged in the more serious aspects, such as social activism, global issues, conscious and intentional design, ethical approaches to business, critiquing celebrity culture, infographics, and more — constantly merging these diverse creative outlets.
